TARIFF REVISION TO START SESSION

Fact Made Clear in Statement by Representative Underwood

NO SUBJECT SPECIFIED

Understood That Wilson's Message to Congress Will Dwell on Tariff Legislation

DATE PROVES SATISFACTORY

WASHINGTON, MARCH 17.—The extra session of congress called by President Wilson to day to asemble April 7th., will begin with nothing but the tariff revision before it. This fact was made clear in a statement to day by Representative Oscar Underwood, chairman of the house committee on ways and means.

Tariff First Subject.

Until tariff legislation is well under way in the house, no general committees will be named, and no other legislation subjects will be taken up. The president specified no subject for the extra session in his proclamation; but it is fully understood that his message to congress at its opening will dwell, upon the need of tariff revision. If currency, Philippine independence, Alaskan affairs woman suffrage or other pressing questions are finally forced upon the attention of congress it will be only after the Democratic leaders of the two houses and the president are convinced that the success of the tariff revision is assured.

The date fixed for the tariff session was accepted by congressional leaders with satisfaction. Senate committees are organized for work and will take up the preliminary stages of much general legislation early in April. A general agreement exists, however, to keep general subjects out of active discussion, while tariff legislation is under way. The house leaders will be ready to go ahead with tariff revision as soon as the session convenes.

Date Satisfactory.

"The date fixed by President Wilson is atisfactory to us" Representative Underwood said " The tarff legislation will be ready to present to the house by that time.

"Of course before work is begun it will be necessary to organize the house. The ways and means committee, acting as the committee on committees will prepare a slate of committee appoints to be presented to the caucus. The plan is to organize only the committees necessary to conduct the organization of the house rules, accounts, mileage and enrolled bills.

"I will confer later with Chairman Fitzgerald, of the appropriations committee as to the necessity of reorganizing his committee to handle the appropriation bills which failed at the last session. These will be the only committees organized prior to the beginning of the tariff work. The others will go over until later in the session."

The tariff legislation now being completed by the ways and means committee will be submitted to the Democratic caucus before the session opens.

Special Senate Sessions Ends.

The special session of the senate which began immediately after the inauguration of Vice-preident Marhshall, March 4th., came to an end early this afternoon. Democratic senators had not completed their plans for dividing senate patronage and arranging committee quarters and the party caucus that has run through two weeks was continued until tonight. The complete re-arrangement of the senate under Democratic control will be accomplished as soon as the special tariff session assembles April 7th. President Wilson notified Senators Kern and Gallinger who were apopinted to call upon him that he had no further business that would keep the senate in session. The committee waited on the president over the telephone and were informed that he was confident to let further appointments go to the extra session next month.

The senate wound up its work at 2:09 p. m. and adjourned on the motion of Senator Kern.

The Democratic caucus late to day adopted the report of its sub-committee as to the general distribution of patronage but declined to act on the plan proposed for a reduction in the force of employes and the cutting off of $40,000 or more from the senate payroll. The patronage committee, headed by Senator Overman was expected to workout the proposed reduction in greater detail to be taken up at a party caucus in April.

Committee Adjourns.

The democrats of the ways and means committee adjourned tonight until tomorrow after beginning a revision of the intricacies of customs enforcement in the administrative sections of the tariff and discussing the income tax in a general without attempting to reach an agreement in that new revenue raising scheme designed to add perhaps $10,000,000 to the treasury funds.

While the income tax details hinge upon final estimate of the

KOHLER IS FOUND GUILTY AND DISCHARGED

CLEVELAND CHIEF OF POLICE IS FOUND GUILTY OF CHARGES

Had Been a Member of Police Department For 24 Years—Roosevelt Declared Him the "Best Chief in America.

CLEVELAND, O., MARCH 17.—The civil service commission tonight announced that they had found Chief of Police Fred Kohler guilty of "gross immorality, conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman and conduct subversive to good and discipline in the police department," and immediately discharged him from office.

The above charges were filed by Mayor Baker and the trial of the chief occupied all of last week. The charges involved allege visits of Kohler to the home of Mrs. May Schearer on February 2nd, May 23rd, and June 5th, 1912, in the absence of her husband.

On the last named date, Schearer testified in the trial that he surprised Kohler and his wife in the Schearer home in 'scanty attire."

Kohler attempted to prove alibis for the first two dates, and declared his mission on the night June 5th an innocent one.

Last September Schearer was granted a divorce from his wife in a suit in which Kohler was named as corespondent.

"Had we authority," the commission said, "we should add to the sentence a permit to this office to receive a full pension to which a retired chief is entitled in view of the term and character of his service, but we are without power to do so."

In a statement issued last night, Kohler indicated his willingness to resign if allowed to receive his full pension of $125 a month. If discharged, his pension would be but $65 a month. Kohler is 49 years old and has been a member of the police department for 24 years and chief for ten years. His policy of "Golden Rule" first offenders and minor offenders has made him one of the best known police chiefs in the country. The title of best chief in America was conferred on him by Theodore Roosevelt on the occasion of one of the former president's visits to Cleveland.

The commission's decision praises Kohler's work as police chief and says that while in other cities police officers have been guilty of corruption and extortion, "Frederick Kohler is a poor man."

Mayor Baker issued a statement tonight in which he praised Chief Kohler's record and the efficiency of the police department under him and regretted the necessity for his separation from the department under such circumstances. Inspector Rowe, who has been acting head since Kohler's suspension on charges, will remain as acting chief until Kohler's successor is appointed, Mayor Baker said.

It is reported that Director of Safety Stage has been asked by the mayor to take the position, which pays $4,000 a year.

Chief Kohler would say nothing about his dismissal.

ENKEMA TESTIFIES IN SUIT AGAINST ALLEGED LUMBER TRUST

Declares He Was Prevented from Establishing a Yard Because of Fear.

Minneapolis, March 17.—C. B. Enkema, of Minneapolis, testifying in the federal government's hearing against the alleged lumber trust suit here to day, said that he was prevented from establishing a lumber yard because of fear. He said that while his plan were under way P. B. Walker, editor of a lumber journal and said to be the official organ of the Northwestern Lumberman's association asked him his plans, and when he outlined them to the editor he was told that he had better abandon the project. Enkema said walker told him he didn't believe he would last very long and asked him how long he would like it if the lumbermen of the northwest would "subscribe $10 each to take care of me."

On cross examination Enkema admitted that he had intended to operate a mail order house. Later he qualified this statement by saying he intended to employe salesmen to travel throughout the northwest.

Boyd N Thompson, a lumber dealer here, testified about ten years ago he was requested by W. G. Holils, secretary of the Northwestern Lumbermen's association not to sell to C. L. Stewart, another dealer, betrade.

DR. GALLOWAY SWORN IN.

Washington, March 17.—Within a few hours after being confirmed by the senate today, Dr. Beverly T. Galloway was sworn in as assistant secretary of agriculture. William A. Taylor who has been his assistant is slated to succeed him as chief of the bureau of plant industry and L. C. Corbett, who has been in charge of horticultural investigations will be assistant chief of the bureau.

"IRISH" ARE SET FREE.

Nashville, Tenn., March 17.—Police Judge Killen, following his annual custom to day visited the local police stations and announced to the prisoners that in honor of St. Patrick's Day he would release all the Irish. DECLINES TO STATE OPINION ON SUFFRAGE

President Listens to Committee of Women Suffrage Leaders

MIND OPEN ON SUBJECT

Wilson Does Not Wish His Attitude to be Construed as Opposed to Suffrage

PUSH HOME STATE REFORMS

WASHINGTON, MARCH 17.—President Wilson today turned his attention chiefly to the political situation in New Jersey where the Democratic party is divided on the question of a judicial reform bill and the senatorial contest in Maryland where William L. Marbury has begun a campaign against Senator John Walter Smith, seeking reelection on the ground that Mr. Smith is not a Progressive. The president listened also to a committee of woman suffrage leaders, introduced by Representative Baker of California who urged him to recommend at the extra session of congress the adoption of an amendment to the federal constitution, giving the ballot to women. Mr. Wilson indicated that while he might not make such a recommendation at the extra session he did not wish his attitude now to be construed as opposed to woman suffrage. He made it clear that his mind was open on the subject.

When the president threw his influence into New Jersey politics to secure the passage of the bill empowering commissions appointed by the governor rather than sheriffs to draw juries. He persistently advocated this measure before he resigned, but since that time an amendment has been attached to the bill providing for a referendum of the question. Holding that the objection of the referendum is to delay the issue and eventually kill the reform. Mr. Wilson has said he feels that the people already have approved the idea by electing the Democratic legislative ticket on a platform pledged to jury reform.

The issue as to Progressism was brought out in the visit to the white house of William L. Marbury of Baltimore who in a public statement recently declared that the president had requested him to become a candidate in the approaching primaries against Senator John Walter Smith. Many Maryland leaders have been to see the president but nothing definite has come from the white house to indicate whether or not he has sanctioned Mr. Marbury's fight against Senator Smith.

"There is no change in the situation," Mr. Marbury announced as he left the executive office.

With the adjournment today of the special session of the senate no more appointments are expected until the extra session of congress beginning April 7th, though there is a liklihood of recess appointments in urgent cases. The senate did not confirm the nomination of Charles P. Neill to be commissioner of labor, and it was not indicated at the white house whether there would be any recess appointment in his case. It became known during the day that John Bassett Moore had formally accepted the post of councellor to the department of state to succeed Chandler Anderson and that National Chairman William F. McCombs had virtually decided to go abroad as ambassador to France. His nomination was to have been sent to the senate today but it was held up pending more definite word from Mr. McCombs who was late today reported to wavering for the business reasons.

Norman E. Mack, former chairman of the Democratic national committee and at present national committeeman from New York talked over federal appointments in the empire state with the president.

IMMODESTY OF ATTIRE IS CAUSE OF ALL EVIL

MODERN DRESS OF WOMEN DENOUNCED BY LAWMAKER

Ohio Legislator Introduces Bill Creating Commission to Prescribe Fashions to Be Worn By Women of That State.

COLUMBUS, O., MARCH 17.—Declaring that the immodesty of the attire worn by women on the streets and in public places is the cause of "the great wave of immorality now sweeping over the country." Representative Louis H. Coppelle of Cincinnati, this evening introduced a bill in the lower house of the legislature providing for appointment by the governor of a commission of three members to prescribe the fashions to be worn by women in the state of Ohio.

Introduction of the measure resulted from a charge filed with Governor Cox today by a woman who did not sign her name that "immorality is practiced by married men in the offices of the statehouse and elsewhere in the state of Ohio."

Under the provisions of the bill, the proposed commission would be compelled to fix limits on decollette dresses, so that "not more than two inches of the neck below the chin shall be uncovered."

Another clause of the measure provides that "transparent stockings shall not be displayed or worn in public places."

Another provision of the bill states that it shall be unlawful to display or wear any outer garment trimmed or combined with lace, inserting or any kind of embroidery, mesh or net, through which the colored texture of the skin may be distinguished without having the lace or other transparent material backed with opaque material."

The commission would be authorized to prescribe rules and regulations for the designing and manufacture of woman's clothing and to prohibit such styles and patterns of garments as the commission after hearing shall deem to be detrimental to virtue and chastity."

The bill goes so far as to prohibit stores from displaying undraped artificial figures. The bill makes a violation of the act punishable by a fine of not less than $25.

DR. FRIEDMANN READY TO TREAT TUBERCULOSIS SUFFERERS FREE

Brother Makes Announcement and Declares it a Crime Not to Permit Him to Do So.

New York, March 17.—Dr. Friederich F. Friedmann is ready to treat without charge all sufferers from tuberculosis, according to his brother Dr. Arthur Friedman who to day declared that it was a crime not to permit him to do so. Dr. Friedmann has been refused permission by the medical authorities of the city to give his treatment, except in connection with certain hospitals. Since his arrival here several sufferers have besought him to aid them.

"Many of these people have come from out of town and they cannot be taken into the hospitals because they don't live here," Arthur Friedmann declared.

He told of a victim of the disease who had laid siege daily to Dr. Friedmann at his hotel for ten days.

"This man," he continued, "has a temperature of 104 and 105, and is walking about the streets. He may drop dead in the street but we cannot help him. Dr. Friedmann can treat only cases in hospital and those under care of a physician. There are hundreds of persons in New York to whom he wants to give his treatment for the benefit of humanity, but his hands are tied. He is eager to treat those patients, rich and poor alike, without charge. It is a crime not to allow him to do so."

A dozen persons suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis received Dr. Friedmann's treatment at a hospital this afternoon.

All of them were in an advanced stage of the disease. Some of the scores who waited outside in the vain hope that they might be given the treatment came in automobiles. All were turned away, and only the cases previously selected came to his attention.

The hospital clinic was an official test under the eyes of government surgeons. Doctors Anderson and Stimson of the United States public health and marine hospital service and several other noted physicians attended the demonstration. After treating the patients Dr. Friedmann lectured briefly and answered many queries of the attending physicians, according to a report from the demonstrating room.

BRAIN GRAFTING OPERATION PROVES UNSUCCESSFUL

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 17.—The funeral of William A. Smith, who recently underwent an operation at Ann Arbor by which the tissue of a dog's brain was substituted for a portion of his own brain, was held at Smith's home in Augusta, Mich., today. It is said Smith never recovered from the operation which was necessitated by removal of a cancerous growth from his head.

DECREES UNIVERSAL JUBILEE.

Rome, March 17.—Pope Pius today published an apostolic letter decreeing a universal jubilee from Low Sunday, March 30th to December 8th, the feast of immaculate conception, in commemoration of the religious toleration edict issued by Emperor Constantine in the fourth century.

NEUVA LAREDO SCENE OF BATTLE

Carrancistas are Driven to the Hills South of Town by Federals

NO QUARTER IS GIVEN

Federals are Reported to Have Been Instructed to Exterminate Carrancistas Band

HUERTA VISITS U. S. CONSUL

LAREDO, TEXAS, MARCH 17.—Streets of Neuvo Laredo, the Mexican town opposite this city were the scene of a battle for an hour and a half to day in which twenty Carrancistas and fifteen federals were killed. Nearly fifty soldiers were wounded.

The Carrancistas retreated to the hills south of Neuvo Laredo. This afternoon the Associated Press correspondent saw twenty bodies in the municipal palace at Neuvo Laredo. On the battlefield he saw bodies of dead rebels with eyes apparently kicked out. Several had been shot through the head apparently after being otherwise wounded. In the hospital there doctors were treating 18 wounded soldiers. Neuvo Laredo was almost deserted.

Armed soldiers guarded most of the street corners. American troops allowed no one to pass to the Mexican side without a permit.

The Carrancistas stole into Neuvo Laredo under cover of darkness, 200 strong, and at daylight began a stubborn fight with the 350 federals defending the town. The fighting scene part of the time was near the Rio Grande. Apparently it was a fight without quarter. One rebel soldier was seen to fall as if dead, but when the charging federals reached him he raised his head. A federal levelled a rifle blowing off part of the top of the wounded man's head, whereupon several of the federals kicked the body out of the way until it rolled down the steep embankment of an arroyo which debauches into the Rio Grande. It was reported that the federals received orders to exterminate the Carrancistas.

Pursue Constitutionalists

The small band of Constitutionalists in a running fight drove headlong into Neuvo Laredo past the customs house to a lard factory where they made a stand. This occurred between four a. m., and dawn. At daybreak the federals deployed about the lard factory, apparently taking care to draw the rebels fire in a line parallel to the Rio Grande so that no bullets should fall in Laredo. After a sharp fight here the rebels retreated in good order in an open area where they halted and checked the federal pursuit. The federals divided, one detachment swinging around to flank the Carrancistas. This flank movement brought the federals directly between the rebels and Laredo so that the rebel fire was directed at this city. The close range of the battle, however, saved the American city, only one report of a bullet crossing the river having been received, this missile pierced the roof of a garage a mile from the fighting but did no other damage. Most of the rebel bullets, as well as those of the federals apparently were stopped by the bodies of the opposing fighters. From Laredo men could be seen dropping everywhere on the battlefield. The worst ravoc was in the ranks of the Carrancistas who retreated dis-orderly. The federals did not pursue them beyond the city limits.

The federals estimated their wounded at sixteen and the rebel wounded at more than twenty.

After the battle American Consul Garrett at Neuvo Laredo requested American physicians to cross into the Mexican town to care for the wounded.

The Carrancistas had encamped last night about five miles from Neuvo Laredo. They attempted to take the town by surprise but the federals had outposts watching for them.

Bitter Feeling Against Ojeda.

Naco, Arizona, March 17.—Nearly 2,000 state troops are closing in tonight on the little Mexican border town opposite this port. After their defeat Saturday when Ojeda's 450 federals routed nearly 1,000 Constitutionalists, the soldiers of the insurgent state are intent on acting without delay. Especially bitter is the feeling over the execution of prisoners by the federal general's orders.

It was learned to day that General Gabriel with 150 state troops is moving by rail to Nogales over the branch line which circles from Nogales to Del Rio and north again to Naco. This force commanded by chiefs who took Nogales last week is in addition to the groups moving east and west.

From the direction of Agua Prieta Col. Calles and Prefecto Bacamento, defeated in the first battle below Naco are moving westward and on the way are organizing their scattered forces which originally numbered 950. From Nogales direcly along the border 250 picked braves are making a forced march to arrive in

SPEAKS TO IRISH FELLOWSHIP CLUB

BRYAN PREDICTS "HOME RULE" FOR IRELAND WITHIN TWO YEARS

Declares That Victory For Ireland Would be Victory For the Whole World—London Paper Criticises His Utterances.

CHICAGO, MARCH 17.—Secretary of State Bryan in his address here tonight at the St. Patrick's Day banquet of the Irish Fellowship club reiterated his words of Saturday at the St. Patrick's banquet in Washington. Two years from now Ireland will be celebrating "home rule" he said. "There is every reason to believe that the house of commons in London will pass the bill again and make it law."

Mr. Bryan declared that the victory for Ireland would be a victory for the world and would mark the end of aristocratic rule.

"When the house of lords is compelled to bow to the people," Mr. Bryan said, "it will mean the beginning of home rule for the whole earth. It will be a tremendous triumph for Ireland, and her part in the great struggle will be gratefully remembered by every country that is struggling for freedom.

"The victory of this great principal will not be acceptable at first, perhaps, to Great Britain and Scotland, but they will in the end find that it is immenesely to their benefit."

Mr. Bryan confined his address to congratulations on the prospect of "home rule." He did not refer at any time during his stay here to national or state politics. "The Lord gave me two ears and one tongue," he said as he left. "It might have been better if I had many ears and no tongue. I am not talking now. I am listening."

Immediately after his arrival in Chicago tonight he had a conference with Governor Dunne. Another conference with the governor followed Mr. Bryan's brief address to the Fellowship club. Only the governor and his campaign manager, William L. O'Donnell, besides Mr. Bryan, were present at the two conferences.

Leaves For Springfield.

The secretary of state left for Springfield shortly before mid-night. He was accompanied by Governor Dunne, O'Connell, Col. J. Hamilton Lewis and former Governor Folk of Missouri.

When it became known here tonight that Mr. Folk had met Mr. Bryan here by appointment and would travel with him to Springfield tomorrow, and accompany him to Peoria on the secretary's journey to Lincoln, it was freely predicted that tender of some important office is this country or abroad would be made to Mr. Folk.

On his arrival in Chicago, Secretary Bryan was met at the station by Mr. O'Connell, Mr. Dunne's representative and Congressman Sabath and James McInnery of Chicago, members of the Hearst-Harrison wing of the local Democracy. Mr. Bryan excused himself to Sabath and McInnery and drove away in a motor car with O'Connell, Mrs. Bryan and former Governor Folk of Missouri.

"There will be no political sifinificance in whatever I may say at Lincoln," said Mr. Bryan when he arrived here. "I have been so busy in Washington I have had no time to prepare speeches and I don't know what I will say either at Springfield or Lincoln. It is the first time in a good many years we Democrats have had anything to celebrate in Lincoln and that is the reason I am going there."

Beside Governor Dunne, Governor Vessey of South Dakota, Governor Burke of North Dakota, with Lieut. Governor Barrett O Hara and Speaker McKinley of the Illinois house of representatives sat at the speaker's table at the banquet.

Mr. Bryan took time tonight for a hurried conference with Governor Dunne to go to the wedding of Miss Amy Wessel and Edward Stransky, Jr., of this city. Mr. Bryan was best man twenty-five years ago in Lincoln, Neb., at the wedding of Miss Wessel's father.

Criticizes Bryan's Speech.

London, March 17.—"A blazing indiscretion," is how the Morning Post describes the speech of William J. Bryan, the secretary of state, at the St. Patrick's Day banquet given by Irish-Americans at Washington on Saturday evening. The Post reprints the portion of the speech in which Mr. Bryan congratulated the Irish nationalists in their success of the home rule bill, and referred to the virtual end of hereditary rule in the Brititsh empire. The Post says that while it does not suppose that Mr. Bryan intended to give offense he should understand that his speech is regarded with keen resentment by many people in Great Britain and in their opinion is a gratuitous and unwarrantable interference in the domestic affairs of the United Kingdom.

"As in the prudence and sagacity with which the secretary of state discharges his task depends the relations of the United states with other countries," continues the Post. "It behooves him to observe caution in his references to other nations."

LEAVES FOR GERMANY.

London, March 17.—The Prince of Wales started on his visits to Germany this evening. He will remain in that country for several weeks. The Prince will go first to Stuttgart, where he will be the guest of the King and Queen of Wurttemburg. The object of his sojourn in Germany is to study the language.

WILL ADDRESS ASSEMBLY TODAY

Friends of Col. Lewis Expect Much of Bryan's Presence

MAY UNIFY DEMOCRATS

Some Hope is Held That Secretary Oratory May Bring Abuot Lewis' Election

SPEAKS JUST BEFORE BALLOT

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., MARCH 17.—Interest among the legislators tonight is centered in the visit tomorrow of Secretary of State William J. Bryan and its effect upon senatorial election and other matters political. Friends of Colonel James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic primary candidate are expecting much of Mr. Bryan. They are hopeful that his presence will bring about a unification of the Democratic side and some of the more sanguine predicting the election of Colonel Lewis tomorrow.

Arrangements have been made to have Mr. Bryan address the general assembly just before the balloting on the senatorships is taken up. It is the hope of Colonel Lewis' friends that the distinguished visitor will make one of his matchless speeches, and that it will sweep the members off their feet, making possible the election of Colonel Lewis at once.

There are indications, however, that cold political calculations will offset the influence of Mr. Bryan's oratory. If Mr. Bryan comes with authority to disburse some of the federal plums at the disposal of his chief it is probable that his oratory will fall upon welcome ears. Otherwise, it looks as though his visit will have no more effect than to provide a gala day for Illinois Democracy. Plans have been made for a simple but pleasant, entertainment of the secretary of state.

To Arrive Early

Governor Dunne and Mr. Bryan are scheduled to arrive in Springfield early tomorrow morning. At 9 o'clock members of the joint committee on arrangements from the legislature will call at the governor's mansion and take charge of their guest. Mr. Bryan will address the joint assembly at 10:30 o'clock.

After Mr. Bryan concludes his address to the law-makers, he will be escorted to the governor's office. With the guests of the day he will then be driven to points of interest in the city.

A formal lunch in honor of Mr. Bryan will be given at the executive mansion at 10:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Bryan and Governor Dunne will leave Springfield at 3 o'clock in the afternoon for Peoria. They are due to arrive in that city at 6:15 and will leave at 7:10 tomorrow evening for Lincoln, Neb., arriving at Lincoln at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Will Announce Committee.

Speaker McKinley has promised to announce the personnel of the house committee on appropriations tomorrow and it is probable that the committee on judiciary, public utilities and contingent expenses also will be made public. With these committees named the house will be prepared to begin the actual work of the session this week.

Members of the assembly were shocked tonight by news of the distressing death of the seventeen months old daughter of Senator John Chamberlain, Jr., of East. St. Louis. The child was dropped by her nurse, yesterday and sustained a fractured skull, which resulted in her death today.

RECEIVE FORFEIT.

New York, March 17.—Members of the Union Pacific underwriting syndicate to day received checks in payment of their share of the $1,266,500 forfeit paid by the railroad because of the failure of the Harriman Line dissolution scheme.

The forfeit represented one per cent of the par value of $126,650,000 of the Southern Pacific stock which the underwriters were obligated to take if the United States district court in St. Louis and the California railroad commission gave their approval to the dissolution agreement.

HAS PATENT RAIL BRACE.

J. B. Welday, of Dennison, O., left for Chicago Monday morning after a short visit with his brother, S. O. Welday, principal of Whipple academy. Mr. Welday was on his way to attend the annual exposition of the national railroad appliance association, in the Coliseum to exhibit an adjustable rail brace which he patented recently. He will interview manufacturers of switch and signal devices at this exposition which is held yearly for the showing of all the improvements in railroad science invented and adopted during the year. Mr. Welday's rail brace, for use especially on electric switches, is calculated to reduce materially the danger of wrecks from faulty switches.

MISS LOUISE D. MILLER GIVES SPLENDID RECITAL

Member of the Faculty of the Illinois College of Music Delights Large Audience By Her Artistic Singing.

Miss Louise D. Miller, a member of the Illinois College of Music faculty, was heard in a brilliant recital in Music hall Monday evening, before a large audience. Her program included selections for the French, Italian and German, which afforded an opportunity to display her interpreting powers and musical understanding. Since her rerecital as a member of the faculty last year, Miss Miller's voice has grown in range, volume, and quality of tone and her efforts of last evening revealed that artistic touch which was keenly appreciated by the critical audience present.

Several of the numbers demanded some difficult sustained work, which was ably met by Miss Miller and the high coloratura work of the "Charmant Oiseau" by David was especially commendable. The program was excellently rendered throughout and the audience was most sympathetic. At the close of the program she sang as an encore, "I Know a Little Elf-Man," by Barnes.

Prof. Max L. Swarthout, director of the College of Music, acted as accompanist in a highly commendable manner and added no little merits to the program which follows:

Ocessati di piagarmi.....Scarlatti
Aria d'Armida.....Gluck
Neopolitan Song.....Nutile
Bergere Legere ..Arr. by Weckerlin

L'adieu du Matin.....Pessard

DR. HARKER WITH EVANGELIST SUNDAY

Jacksonville Citizen Present On Miners' Night and Had Pleasure of Meeting Miners Who Came From His Native County in England.

Dr. Joseph R. Harker who is at Wilkesbarre, Pa., had an interesting experience there on Friday. Evangelist Sunday is conducting a series of meetings there and on Friday took Dr. Harker to the tabernacle in the auto reserved for the evangelistic party's use and also invited him to the platform for a brief speech. It was "miners' night" and out of an audience of 10,000 people there were 2,800 miners present and Mr. Sunday in introducing the Jacksonville man mentioned that he had been years ago a miner in County Durham, England, but was now a college president. Dr. Harker talked for four or five minutes and was given special attention by the miners. At the close of the service four or five of them who had been born in County Durham came forward to greet him and Dr. Harker found that he knew relatives of one of them and they thoroughly enjoyed talking over old and familar scenes.

The Sunday meetings have been in progress now about two weeks in Wilkesbarre and the evangelist is meeting with his usual success.

HAS FRANCHISE SUGGESTION.

Commissioner Newman, who is opposed to the franchise ordinances now pending before the city council unless some modifications are made said yesterday that he thought the traction company should be willing to pay to the city for the franchises three per cent upon the gross earnings of the gas company and the street railway company. In talking on the subject yesterday Mr. Newman said: "I am opposed to the franchise ordinances now pending unless changes are made in them and yet I do not want anything from the companies which is unfair. I am not in favor of the coliseum proposition because it seems to me that the city has no immediate need for such a building while it does need the money for running expenses and for paying debts. It would be an equitable plan I think to require the companies in exchange for franchise rights to pay to the city three per cent on their gross earnings. This sum would be more than sufficient to pay the yearly interest on the proposed bond issue for light plant improvement."

time with the other groups of state troops. Hearing of the approach of their tribesmen, a few of the Yaqui members of Ojeda's command have deserted, depleting the already small force of the Huerta garrison here.

With the return of the state troops in greater numbers it is doubtful if General Ojeda will dare venture out as he did Saturday to meet an enemy four times his strength. Facing a situation similiar to that of the battle of Nogales when bullets fell into the American town, Col. Guilfoyle, commanding the Ninth Cavalry is here to day. He notified General Ojeda that the federal comamnder would be held responsible for any danger to Americans on the Arizona side of the line. Guilfoyle also ordered troop movements which tonight made a total of nine troops of the ninth from Douglas and the Fifth from Fort Huachuca on the border near this point.

Also by order of Colonel Guilfoyle workmen late to day began the construction of a bullet proof adobe building here to be used as a refuge place for women and children.

Huerta Visits Wilson.

Mexico City, Mexico, March 17.—Provisoinal President Huerta, disregarding all precedents to day called upon Henry Lane Wilson, the American ambassador to Mexico. This is the first time, it is said that a Mexican president has called upon the diplomatic representative of the foreign power and technically his act was that of leaving Mexican territory. The chief executive was accompanied by Francisco de la Barra, the Mexican minister of foreign affairs.

President Huerta told Ambassador Wilson he had ratifield the understanding between the American Ambassador and foreign minister de la Barra that all questions pending between the United States and Mexico be taken up and adjudicated without loss of time. He referred especially to the claims of Americans arising from the Mexican revolutions and also to the chamisal boundary and other disputes.

General Huerta reiterated that it was his desire to continue the friendly relations of the two governments and he personally expected gratitude for the friendly attempts of the American ambassador to bring about peace during the recent disturbanes in Mexico.

GAVE ADDRESS ON LUTHER.

Dr. F. A. Holtzhausen Heard Sunday Afternoon at the Baptist Church.

A good sived audience gathered in the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock to hear a native of Luther's city tell of Luther. Under the title, "The Monk That Shook the World," F. A. Holtzhausen of Wittenberg, Germany, told in excellent English the life story of this fiery reformer of the reformation. He took that great man through the vicissitudes of early poverty and humble birth, to the consecrated life of a monk. He showed how that zealous monk turned against Rome, defied her legate, and openly held in disregard the pope himself. He developed also the effect of Luther's life upon mankind.

Mr. Holtzhausen, who spoke under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., was introduced by a male quartet consisting of C. L. Mathis, J. A. Campbell, J. Roy Harney and H. A. Brewer.

THE MEETINGS CLOSED.

Olin, Iowa, Recorder: The revival meetings under the leadership of Evangelist Olenslayger, of Jacksonville, Illinois, came to a close last Monday night, but we trust that the revival spirit will continue with increasing power for days to come. The meetings grew in interest from the very beginning, and closed with a climax on Monday night with eight adults at the altar. The meeting on the last Sunday night will not soon be forgotten by those present. Twenty-two adults knelt at the altar for pardon. Many, if not all, felt that it was the greatest meeting they had ever witnessed. Seventy-five were at the altar during the meetings and a large per cent of these were adults, and half the number, or more, were men.

CHANDLERVILLE MAN ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF KIDNAPPING LITTLE GIRL

Elias Friend Bound Over to Await Action of Grand Jury in Squire Dyer's Court Monday.

Elias Friend of Chandlerville, was arrested Monday by Deputy Sheriff Todd on a warrant sworn out by John Friend, charging him with kidknaping Bertha Friend, aged 7 years.

The girl, who is a half sister of the two men, has been attending Washington school in this city, and there has been quite a little dispute between the two men as to who is to take care of the child. She had been making her home with John Friend until recently, when he secured a position in Alexander and moved his family there. Not wanting to take the little girl out of schol until the end of the term, he left her at the home of Charles Birdsell on South Sandy Street, intending, it is said, to take her to his home in Alexander as soon as school closed.

John Friend charges that Elias Friend, who lives in the vicinity of Chandlerville, came to Jacksonville recently, went to the school, called the girl from her class and took her to Chandlerville with him, leaving her at the home of Elias Atterbury, near that town.

At the trial in Squire Dyer's court Monday, the defendant was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. He was defended by Judge F. E. Baldwin.

Choosing the style by which to make a new dress has probably caused the women of America more worry and headaches than any other one thing in connection with her wardrobe While each season brings out certain tendencies which are to be adopted by the well dressed woman, there are so many modifications by the different modistes, choosing is made most difficult. If you use Pictorial Review Patterns our answer is "Yes, your dress will be made to look just like the picture." There is a cutting guide accompanying each patternwhich produces absolute accuracy in design.

POWERS WILL IGNORE DEMANDS OF BALKAN ALLIES

Will Consider Their Reply as Accepting the Proffered Mediation

London, March 17.—The European powers have decided practically to ignore the extravagant demands of the Balkan allies and to consider their reply as tantamount to an agreement to accept the proffered mediation.

The powers in their reply will congratulate the allies on agreeing to mediation and will propose that the frontier line be drawn from Enos on the Sea of Marmora to Midia on the Black Sea instead of from Rodosto to Midia, all the territory to the west of the proposed territory with the exception of Albany going to the allies. The note will declare that the question of an indemity cannot be entertained and will remind the allies that Albania and the Aegean Islands are in the hands of the powers for final settlement.

HARVESTER CO. INTRODUCES EVIDENCE IN ITS DEFENSE

Attempts to Show That Other Manufacturers Were Using Method Similiar to Those Charged by the Government Against the Defendant.

Omaha, Neb., March 17.—The International Harvester company today introduced evidence in its defense to the government anti-trust suit to show that other manufacturers were using methods similiar to those charged by the government against the defendant.

W. D. Lowe, an Atlantic, Iowa., dealer testified that the John Deere Plow company, which manufactures binders and mowers presented him with a contract, which if he had accepted it, would have ruined his business and prevented him from taking on other lines which were necessary to successful pursuit of his operation as a dealer.

"I am not in business for my health," testified J. W. McMichael, of Riverton, Iowa., "and I am handling lines for which there is a demand. I find a better for International goods and have, for that reason, refused to handle others."

Attorney Grosvnor for the government brought out during the day, that with one exception the International company handled from 85 to 100 per cent of harvesting machinery in the territory from which witnesses were called.

Does Not See Fit to be Member of Corporation and Also a Professor and Employe of the University.

New Haven, Conn., March 17.—At the March meeting of the Yale corporation today the resignation of former President Taft as a member of the corporation was accepted with regret. Mr. Taft, who is now Kent Professor of Law in Yale, sent in his resignation March 8, saying:

"I do this because I do not deem it in the interest of the university that a member of the corporation should at the same time be a professor under its appointment and its employment."

The corporation voted to communicate to Mr. Taft an expression of deep regret that the traditions of the university regarding professors as he interprets them, do not permit his continuance as a member of the corporation and to assure him that his colleagues appreciate deeply the many evidences of his loyalty and devotion to the university.

AGED SPANISH GENERAL DIES ALONE IN NEW YORK

New York, March 17.—Manuel De Fuentes Bustillo who claimed to have been a Spanish general was accidentally asphyxiated to day in a hotel room where he lived for sixteen years with two cats as companions.

The policeman who forced the door and found the body, was, it is said, the first person other than Bustillo who had entered the room since the Spaniard established himself there in 1897.

Bustillo told the owner of the hotel that he once was a Spanish spy. For good work he was promoted. He was about fity, when attaining the rank of General he was disappointed in love and simultaneously was ostracized by his family because of his record as a spy. He fled to America.

A litter or dust covered documents dating back thirty years was found in his room. They included a deed of grant for Spanish railway from King of Spain and the general's will, disposing the property in Spain, described as valuable.

probable revenue from the fourteen schedules the disposition of the committee majority is to inaugurate the system with probably a one per cent tax on a minimum of $5,000 annual income, with the idea that raising of the tax percentage, or both if conditions necessitate after the plan is floated.

The big fight pending now is the always controversal Schedule "K", the big wool schedule on which a final vote is likely within the next three or four days. The advocates of free raw wool in the committee have counted upon winning in the end, regardless of what the probable attitude of the senate might be. The majority already has settled upon free raw cotton and upon sharp reductions in the cheaper grades of textile manufacturers.

The revision as settled upon contemplates substantially the principal provision of the Democratic revision bills that were put through both houses during the last congress. It was stated tonight that the revision as planned includes.

Schedule "A." Reaffirmation of most of the rates on chemicals, oils and protections provided under the Democratic chemical revision attempt at last congress with some sharper reductions, including cuts in the rates on the cheaper grades of soap and lower duties on oils.

Schedule "B." Reductions from the present rate on cheaper potteryware substantial cuts on many articles of china, earthenware, porcelean, stone and crockeryware now assessed 55 and 60 per cent, denounced by importers as exorbitant if over 30 or 35 per cent; simplification of classification to differentiate between earthenware and china.

Schedule "C." Substantially a reaffirmation of the iron and steel schedule proposed by the Democrats in the 62nd congress.

Schedule "D." Rough and dressed lumber, hewn and squared timber, shingles, laths and fence posts, made free and reductions in other items.

Schedule "E." Free sugar and other provisions of the former Underwood free sugar bill, the loss of approximately $50,000,000 revenue from which to be offset by the income tax.

Schedules "F" and "H". Retention of high rates of duty on tobaccos, cigars, cigarettes and snuff, and spirits, wines and beverages all regarded by the committee as luxuries to be taxed as high as they can stand from a revenue raising standpoint.

Schedule "G." (Agricultural products). Numerous changes, particularly a sharp cut on lemons, a compromise on the fight for free lemons involving the citrus fruit interests on the Pacific coast, meat and cattle, whether dutiable or free still undetermined.

Schedule "I." Free raw cotton, substantial reductions on cheaper grades of cotton goods, practically as proposed in the last congress.

Schedule "J." Retention of most of the flax, hemp and jute rates, except cuts on cheaper grades of linen and other manufacturers.

Schedule "K." Sharp reductions on a large variety of cheaper woolen products along the lines of the previous Democratic bills with a fight still on for free raw wool.

Schedule "L." Approximately the present high rates on silks and silk goods, as luxuries.

Schedule "M." Free wood pulp and print paper, probably with the elimination of the present restrictions as to reciprocity.

Schedule "N." Reductions in numerous "sundries" including harness and saddlery.

Free list. Substantially the free list proposed at the last congress with addition but with the question of free meats and cattle unsettled.

SUFFRAGETTES DIVIDED.

London, March 17.—The militant suffragettes have now declared war against their sisters who are working for the vote for women by constitutional means.

A meeting of the constitutionalists which Philip Snowden, Socialist M. P. for Blackburn was addressing at Gateshead tonight was thrown into disorder by militants who insisted upon interrupting Mr. Snowden. Quiet was not restored until the stewards, male and female, ejected the more warlike supporters of the suffrage movement.

The order for the forcible removal of the disturbing element was given by the chairwoman and was accomplished only after vigorous resistence by the suffragettes.

Lieut. Gov. Barrett O'Hara has received offers of assistance from the governors of twelve states and commending his movement to suppress the white slave evil. The investigation has entered lines altogether unthought of at its inception and is arousing wide-spread interest.

Senator Magill, of Princeton, has introduced a bill in our state legislature providing for the erection of a bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln, to be erected on the capitol grounds and dedicated at the time of the state's centennial celebration in 1818. Senator Magill is to be complimented—the idea is a worthy one, and it is hoped may be carried through.

Los Angeles is being credited with the introduction of fire proof baskets in the public schools, ordered by the board of education to "catch the snipes thrown away by school ma'ams and pupils addicted to cigarets." This story probably originated with some person who has lived long in "Sunny California" and who has become addicted to untruthfulness in boasting of the delightful weather in Los Angeles.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon bought 400 acres of land years ago, near Danville, for $10,000, and sold it recently for $100,000. Such little items will help pay for the ex-speaker's cigars in his retirement.

Over at Pittsfield a new bank has been talked of, but the Farmers' State Bank headed it off, by increasing its capital stock and taking in the men behind the proposition, merging with the old organization.

Democrats were 2,400,000 behind in the popular vote of the country, last November. They have only a majority of two in the United States—they really need two more from this state to make them safe, but they must get down to business promptly to even get one, as within a few weeks they may be deprived of the duty of electing senators, and the privilege transferred from the state assembly to the people themselves. Then, for a certainty, two Republicans would be selected. The amendment providing for the direct election of senators is near adoption as part of the federal constitution. It requires ratification by thirty-six states of the amendment for direct election of United States senators. Already thirty-one states have ratified the amendment, Illinois being one of them. In Delaware, New Jersey, New Mexico, and Pennsylvania, one house in each of these respective legislatures has acted favorably toward the amendment. So far Georgia is the only state that has rejected the amendment. States that have so far taken no action are Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee, Connecticut, Louisiana, Rhode Island, Virginia, Florida, Maryland and South Carolina. Many of these states are believed to be favorable to the amendment.

The Chicago superintendent of schools, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, has selected eighteen women teachers to act as deans for the girls of the high schools, under the general direction of the dean of women. Mrs. Young hopes that these lady deans, gaining the respect and confidence of the girls, may be able to eliminate many dangers in the way of the pupils.

Word comes from Chicago that Paul Selby is at death's door. Mr. Selby is one of the best known of the old-time newspaper men of the state. Over fifty years ago he was the editor and proprietor of the Jacksonville Journal, and has since been active in newpspaperdom and in politics. He attended the first convention of editors at Decatur, that resulted in the birth of the Republican party. He has written a history of this state that is considered one of the best. Let us hope that he may yet be spared for a time.

"Swindling in mining claims" is the charge on which Julian Hawthorne has been sentenced to prison. He is a son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, one of the best known story tellers that this country has ever produced, and has written many books himself. It is with a feeling of sadness that one pictures the change from the honored position of Nathaniel Hawthorne, beloved of his people and an author of renown, to Julian Hawthorne, convict.

Mr. Taft, upon his retirement from the presidential chair, has agreed to accept a $5,000 per year professorship at Yale university, while his secretary has landed a $20,000 a year job with a large corporation. An attorney who has been in the employ of the government in pure food prosecutions, has accepted a position with a large food producing firm, so that his services, rendered valuable by these years of work on the other side, will hereafter be devoted to attacking the very laws he has been defending.

While there has been a slight decrease in the number killed on the railroads of this state in the past year, the number is still great enough to justify the movement for "safety first" before speed. According to the report of the railroad and warehouse commission for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, which has just been issued, 965 persons were killed in this state by steam, surface and electric railroads. Of this number 900 were killed on the steam roads, while 65 met death on the surface and electric railways. A comparison of the report for the last two fiscal years shows that there was a decrease of 46 fatalities on the steam railways and electric and surface railways. The total number of persons injured during the year on all passenger carrying roads was 13,593, a n increase of 1,729 over the previous year, and of this number 1,095 were injured on the surface and electric lines and 12,498 were injured on the steam roads.

Joseph Gurney Cannon has left Washington, starting for his home in Danville. Replying to the question of a reporter, "What are you going to do back home?" "Uncle Joe" made the characteristic reply: "Well, my business is in pretty good shape. I've got a little bank stock and that is pretty well organized. My farm land is well handled. I guess I'll just look around a little bit. When I was young I wanted to travel, but I was too too busy earing a living. Now I don't care much about it. I am not tired. I feel just as well as I ever did, but I s'pose that's because I am the old devil they say I am." Will you cintinue in politics?" "When I lose interest in politics you can bet I'll be dead. I will still be in politics, as a private citizen." Then, as in afterthought, "without personal ambitions."

THE INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT.

The Bloomington Panatgraph is still talking of the "invisible" in politics. It says:

"We have heard much of the 'invisible government' since the Bull Moose party came into existence, but it has remained for Frank J. Snite, who has been officially read out of the party, to describe the 'invisible government' within the Progressive organization itsmelf. Mr. Snite asserts that the inner circle of the party in Illinois consists of Medill McCormick, Walter Clyde Jones and Harold L. Ickes and that these eminently patriotic statesmen, after having used Frank H. Funk as a candidate for governor, are now using every effort to throw him into the discard.

"According to Mr. Snite this trio are prepared to take any steps that may be necessary to prevent the election of Mr. Funk to the United States senate, as they fear that should he be elected, he would make such a creditable record that he would be the only candidate considered by the Progressives in two years.

"Mr. Snite says that the talk of Lorimer consent and Lorimer votes is nothing but hypocrisy and that the cry of Lorimerism is being used at Springfield to befog the issue. He says that the Roosevelt opposition is being fostered by McCormick, Jones and Ickes, who have the former president's ear and give him only their version of the situation.

"That Frank H. Funk has been the victim of treachery within the ranks of his own party there is little doubt and there is no reason to question Mr. Snite's statement of the case. The actions of Medill McCormick and Walter Clyde Jones at Springfield, have in fact, been almost too transparent to deserve the name of 'invinsible.' This pair are so vaultingly ambitious to go to the United States senate, themselves that it appears they are willing to do everything in their power to defeat Frank H. Funk, even though they know they have no chance of preferment themselves. The 'green-eyed' monster evidently has a firm hold on the hearts of the Chicago Progressives and they are willing to place every obstacle in the way of any other Progressive in order to appease their own jealousies."

In the proposed gas franchise which the city council has under discussion with the Jacksonville Light company the rates provided are the same that are in effect here now and this is true also with reference to the electric franchise. The city attorney has maintained that whatever rates are specified in the franchises put up to the people that the rates should be adjusted at every five year period during the life of the franchise. This is a reasonable provision and one which would be fair to both parties to the transaction, the people and the lighting company. The proposed franchises will cover periods somewhere from twenty to thirty years and during those years it is possible that conditions will so change that the cost of producing gas and electricity will be greatly reduced. In such event the people will be justly entitled to lower rates. On the other hand with the increasing cost of fuel and labor it is possible the cost of production may increase and in that event the light company could with seasonableness demand higher rates from consumers. Twenty to thirty years is looking a long way ahead and while it will be meet and proper to grant to some company the right to supply gas and electricity during that period, the question of price should be settled for shorter periods.

LLOYD CONFERS WITH BURLESON

Washington, March 17.—Representative Lloyd of Missouri, chairman of Democratic congressional committee and member of the house postal and post roads committee, today had a long conference with Postmaster General Burleson on postal affairs. Mr. Lloyd who had just returned from a ten day trip told Mr. Burleson that he found Democrats everywhere in favor of the postmaster general's plan of requiring fourth-class postmasters to pass a competitive examination.

THE "WISE GUY."

"There was a pith about old..... which nothing could stand up against. His influence was not so much that of an author as of a thinker. He was the most powerful intellect in the world of books. He was the Jackson of the literary ring—the judge—the emperor—a giant—acknowledged to be a Saul amongst the people. Even David Hume would have been like a woman in his grasp; but, odd enough, the two never met."

Dr. F. S. Hayden will interpret this fascinating egoist at the library at 7:30 this evening.

WORKING TOGETHER BRINGS RESULTS

NICHOLAS ROBERTS TELLS BUSINESS MEN OF NEEDS OF CO-OPERATION.

Speaker at Noonday Luncheon Emphasized Truths Worth Remembering—City Government and Business Interests Should Work Together.

The first of a series of noonday luncheons for business men under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce was held Monday noon at Peacock Inn. Although the notice of the luncheon was short seventy-five or more business men attended.

John J. Reeve, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the chairman of the day and Secretary Fritchey made an announcement that it is the intention to have these luncheons every two weeks until further notice and that a number of well known speakers have been secured to make addresses. The luncheons will be served promptly at 12:15 and all addresses will be short with the intention of making the invariable rule of dismissing the assemblages at 1:15.

The speaker yesterday was Nicholas Roberts, now of the Chicago Chamber of Commerce and formerly secretary of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce. He was introduced in an appropriate way by the chairman.

Graduated Fees.

Mr. Roberts' theme was "Financing a Commercial Club," and among other things, he said: "I have not lived in Chicago a very long time and while I am a member of the Chamber of Commerce there and serving upon a committee of relationship with other clubs, I really feel that I know more about the down state organizations than I do about the one in Chicago. The first problem which confronts a commercial organization is that of having it upon a firm financial basis and this involves a question of membership and of dues that members are to pay. In Springfield the membership varied from $6 up, according to the individual or firm. It seemed to us that it was hardly fair to expect a young man in a small business, or an employe simply in some business, to pay as large a membership fee as would be asked from some one conducting a business on a larger scale and who would probably receive some direct benefit from the business organization. Then besides we had sustaining memberships from $25 a year upward, a good many firms giving $50 and $75 a year, several of them $100 and we had two subscriptions of $500 each.

Day of Bonuses Passes.

"Any fund that a commercial organization has for the securing of factories or enterprises of that character should be separate and distinct from other funds and must necessarily be so to be handled with any degree of satisfaction or success. A plan which has been found satisfactory in a number of instances is to get pledges from merchants, say of $100 each, which they agree to pay in the event any factory or enterprise is secured which has been approved by the directors and by the clearing house association. If you have a hundred such pledges then your committee knows that it definitely has $10,000 which can be relied upon for securing any desirable proposition. It is true and worthy of note, that the practice of paying bonuses for the location of factories is largely obsolete and not nearly so much money is paid out along this line as was formerly true. Nine-tenths of the people who are looking for bonuses for factories are not interested in much else but the money. The average commercial organization does not find it very difficult to secure the funds needed for ordinary expenses if a budget is made up and the people understand exactly what is going to be done with the money. Your members naturally want to know, and have a right to know, how the money you get is expended.

Co-operation Basis of Success.

"Co-operation might be said to be a keynote of success in commercial organizations as it is in a great many other things. An organization of this kind should be in strict accord with the city administration for in many things to be attained co-operation of a city administration is essential and little can be accomplished if the business men and the city officials are pulling in opposite directions. There should be absolute harmony there in so far as possible. Over in the Springfield Chamber of Commerce and the officials of the city work together but in a number of cities they are at outs and little is accomplished. Another important factor is the support of the newspapers for without their help and co-operation a commercial organization is badly crippled. In Springfield I appeared a number of times before the ministerial association and got their assistance for the project in view, and I have appeared before the liquor dealers' association asking their aid. So you see what I mean is that by working together and toward proper ends, is the way to accomplish desired results. The closer the officers of an organization of this kind keep to the members the better it is and as frequently as possible members should be asked to express their opinions upon questions which come up for decision. The more active the interest taken in a business organization by the ordinary members the greater will be the success of that organization."

Mr. Roberts said that he hoped to meet a number of Jacksonville citizen again at no distant day as he with other members of the Chamber of Commerce is planning a trip by special train which will take them into forty cities of Illinois. He said that the Chicagoans had nothing to sell but simply hoped by this trip to get the Chicago and down state organizations closer together.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN LONDON.

London,, March 17.—Notwithstanding that this is Holy Week today's celebration of St. Patrick's Day in the metroplis was the most notable of recent years. Approaching home rule served as an added incentive for enthusiastic demonstrations on the part of the sons of Erin.

The Irish flag was flying from many public buildings, special services were held in the Catholic churches, and the shamrock, or something representing it, was seen everywhere. The Irish troops at the various garrisons were given a day's leave.

Following a custom etablished by Queen Victoria and later observed by Queen Alexandra, Queen Mary sent to the battalion of Irish Guards on duty at the Tower of London a large quantity of shamrocks, which were distributed to the officers and men at parade this morning.

CONGRESS ON PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

The sessions, which will continue several days, are being held under the auspices of the faculty of medicine of the University of Paris.

PAYS PFNALTY FOR MURDER OF LOUISANA LUMBER MAN

Albert L. Watson Was Hanged at Shreveport, La.—Accomplice is in Prison.

Shreveport, La., March 17.—Protesting to the very last that his woman accomplice was far more guilty than he, Albert L. Watson was hanged here today for his part in the murder of C. C. Bailey. Mrs. Bailey, who was the wife of the murdered man, is serving a five years' sentence in the penitentiary for her share in the crime.

The murder of Bailey, who was a wealthy lumber mill owner, was the result of a love affair between Mrs. Bailey and Watson. According to the alleged confessions of the guilty pair Mrs. Bailey conspired to rid herself of her husband and Watson agreed to do away with his wife.

Mrs. Watson is believed to have been killed in a Texas town in the spring of 1912. A short time later Watson came to Metcalf, La., where Bailey operated a lumber mill, obtained employment and was taken into the Bailey home as a member of the family. Bailey was murdered on the night of September 2, 1912. When Watson was arrested on suspicion he first declared Bailey was slain by a burglar.

Under the rigid examination of the authorities Watson weakened and made a clean breast of what he declared was a double murder plot. According to the confession he and Mrs. Bailey had entered into a compact at Flannigan, Texas, by which Watson was to poison his wife and Mrs. Bailey her husband. Watson declared he had fulfilled his part of the agreement before coming to Louisiana.

Upon his arrival at Metcalf he urged Mrs. Bailey to hurry her part of the conspiracy. He declared that the woman tried several times to poison her husband but failed because she did not know how to administer the dose. Meantime Bailey became suspicious and quarreled with his wife. On the day of the tragedy she left their home. Watson crept into the house during the night, carrying a heavy ax, with which he confessed he murdered Bailey.

"When I raised that ax," Watson is quoted as saying in his confession, "to strike that sleeping man, I said to myself:: 'This will send your soul to hell.' That's where I belong, and the sooner I'm hanged the better I shall be satisfied.'"

On the eve of execution Watson adhered to his declaration that Mrs. Bailey had exerted a sort of hypnotic intluence over him that caused him to accede to her request to kill Bailey despite his own abhorrence of the deed. He also reiterated his charge that Mrs. Bailey had poisoned his wife.

Previous to the execution W. A. Watson, a brother of the condemned man, signed a formal document before a notary pledging himself to take care of his brother's three little girls as if they were his own.

Secretary of State Bryan Finds Some Knotty Tasks In His New Job In President's Cabinet.

According to early indications, William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state, will not have missed much by not being president instead of cabinet member. It is he who must adjudicate big international problems that turn up unexpectedly, like the freeing of American criminals in Havana and unfriendly conditions in another country toward an American ambassador. Also, since a decision by President Wilson, Secretary Bryan has to meet countless office seekers. Above is a picture of Mr. Bryan at work at his desk in his new position.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION.

(U. S. Bureau of Education.)

The movement for vocational education in this country is now in full swing. Six states already have more or less complete systems of vocational training, and a number of others are considering legislation to introduce into the public schools work that will fit boys and girls more directly for earning a living. In order to aid in the movement the national society for the promotion of industrial education has issued a brief, explicit statement of what it considers the main principles that should underlie the proposed legislation, and the United States bureau of education, while not giving official indorsement to the program as a whole, is sending copies of the pamphlets to those who apply for it.

What are the essentials of a state system of practical education? The society's circular endeavors to answer this question. In a few short nontechnical paragraphs it sums up certain of the fundamental policies of vocational education as this society sees it. It urges state aid to the local communities. It recognizes four fields of vocational training as the kind the state ought to furnish its boys and girls: Industrial education for workers in the trades and industries and in the household; agricultural education for the farmers; commercial education for clerks, salesmen, etc.; and "household arts education" for non-wage-earning occupations connected with the home. In other words, the state ought to make it possible for children to receive in the public schools instruction that will fit them directly for productive employment in any of these useful occupations, instead of sending them out with little or no training for the real work they are going to do.

Experience has already been sufficient to indicate in what kind of schools this vocational training can be given. The circulation cites a number of types of schools, some based on European models, others on American practice, among them the following: The all-day vocational schools, where the pupils can spend at least one year in all-day attendance; the part-time schools, where boys and girls regularly employed may come for a few hours each week; the evening schools in industry or agriculture, for persons over 16 years of age who work during the day; and similar evening schools or classes in household arts.

It is significant that the six states that have already set up systems of vocational education—Massachusetts, New York, Connecticut, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Indiana—have long had excellent schools. The newer education which they are introducing is not intended to replace the old, but to supplant it; to give training for a specific employment in addition to the regular schooling, so that the boys and girls may be more efficient and willing workers, as well as better educated individuals.

TITLED ENGLISHMAN BORN HERE

The above extract from the Globe-Democrat of March 17th, is also of interest to Jacksonville people. As usual Jacksonville is always in the limelight, whether at home, with the Secretary of State Bryan, or beyond the sea. Lady Leith's father was D. A. January, an early resident of this place. He built the original part of the Dunlap house. Her uncle, Thos. D. January was a builder of the Wabash railway in 1837.

"Lady Leith of Fyvie will give a ball after Easter in her house in Grosevenor Crescent, London, to introduce Miss Lorna Rosden Burn, daughter of Capt. and Hon. Mrs. Rosden Burn. Mrs. Burn was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Forbes Leith, who went to reside in London twenty-five years ago. Their only son was killed in the boer war and shortly afterwards Mr Leith was made a peer with the title of Lord Leith of Fyvie. These facts are interesting in St. Louis because Lady Leith was Miss January of this city."

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues, and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration.

It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuff, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE recommended by all leading experiment stations.

It is packed in one-hundred-pound burlap sack, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD," analysis as above.

It is the ideal feed to balance rations.

What "Sure Fatten Hog Food" Tankage Does.

It developes bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby, saving one third of the feed bill, one third of the labor, one third of the risk, increasing profits one third.

It grows beter proportioned hogs, more meat, and more fat, hence market-topper hogs. SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE fed hogs ship well with small shrink.

COUNCIL HELD SHORT SESSION.

The Monday session of the City Council almost holds the record for brevity, as the mayor and commissioners were hardly in session five minutes. The roll call and the reading of the minutes together with some other routine business was transacted and then the clerk read the ordinance calling a Board of Education election in the 1st and 2nd ward, for April 15th. The ordinance was adopted and as no new business was reported and there were no reports from departments the council then adjourned.

Mrs. S. S. S., Van Buren St., Kingston N. Y., (full name furnished on application), had such decided benefit from using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound that she shares her good fortune with others. She writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound brought my voice back to me during a severe case of bronchitis and laryngitis. Oh, how many people I have recommended it to." City Drug Store—J. A. TALKS OVER PLANS FOR IMPROVING NICHOLS PARK

Commissioners Have Numerous Ideas of Betterment They Are Now Considering—Poultry Department Flourishing.

As the spring opens and the summer days follow close at hand, the peoples minds naturally turn to out door life. They have been housed up during the winter months and they long to get out and close to nature. Nichols Park is destined to play an important part in the life of the citizens in the months to come and those who have labored to make it attractive have every reason to feel proud of the fruits of their labor It is the object of the park board to still further enhance the beauty of the place.

At a recent meeting of the chautauqua committee with the Chamber of Commerce an idea was advanced that it would be a splendid thing for the park to have a stretch of hard roads. As has been noted before, the state furnishes the rock for such a road, also an engineer, those receiving the material paying for the freight and hauling. One mile can be constructed twelve feet wide for $5,000. Of course, on account of finances, a short stretch of road would have to be constructed, but it is safe to say that it would attract visitors from all parts of the country, both while it was being constructed and afterwards. It would be the first hard road to be laid in Morgan county. It would go a long way in solving the dust question at the park.

Electric fountains are also talked of for the park and it is said they could be constructed at a small cost. The different colored glass, brilliatly lighted would make a beautiful scene at night and the water could be pumped with the equipment already on the grounds.

Poultry Department.

A great many people do not know that they have built at the park a large chicken house, which is 100 feet long and 18 feet wide. The building is located right south of the custodian's home, where it can be under his watchful eye. Large glass has been put on the south side, the floors are of concrete, and each department of the house is equipped with an automatic feeder.

There are five pens in all and the same have been stocked by the Morgan County Poultry Association. There is one pen of Rhode Island Reds containing one rooster and eight hens; one pen of white leghorns, pen of Barred Plymouth Rocks and a pen of White Wyandottes. The fifth pen is to be filled with Black Langshangs. The fancy chickens will be viewed with interest by park visitors this year. The product of the house now is 20 eggs per day and six hens are setting and two incubators will soon be at work. Custodian Daniel Kelly and his wife have charge of the business.

Railroad May Build

The chautauqua committee has had under advisement the changing of the location of the main tent of the chautauqua, one of the main reasons to get it closer to the street car line so that people would not have to walk so far. The idea was suggested that if the street car company could acquire the strip of lnd directly west of the park, that the company could run their car line south until it came opposite the pavillion and there a suitable terminal shelter built. The terminal would be at the highest point of the Chicago and Alton railroad and there would be nothing to obstruct the view and there would be less danger from passing the railroad crossing. On stormy nights, as it is now, there is no shelter, while waiting for cars and such a building would receive the commendation of all visitors to the park.

It is also been suggested that the location of the bridge should be changed to the spillway at the north end of the lake. This would make possible a drive way on the east side side of the lake and a splendid view of the whole park could be obtained from that side of the grounds. The danger of a bridge to be used by both foot passengers and vehicles has often been observed in the present bridge as a good deal of work is now needed on the foundtions.

Speeding has often been noticed at the park and means have been sought to remedy this evil. Roadway lights with boulevard lighting system, a touch of beauty to the grounds and it is thought would solve the speeding problem in a great measure.

Golf Links Probable.

It is probable that golf links will be laid out at the park. Since the breaking up of the country club, lovers of golf have been looking about a place to continue the game. The park affords an excellent spot. A baseball diamond may also be laid out and this would afford amusement not only for the younger people but the older ones as well.

SERIOUS ERROR IN JACKSONVILLE.

Jacksonville Citizens Will Do Well to Profit by the Following.

Many fatal cases of kidney disease have reached an incurble stage because the patient did not understand the symptoms. Even today in Jacksonville there are many residents making the same serious error. They attribute their mysterious aches and pains to overwork, or worry, perhaps, when all the time their rheumatic pains, backache and bladder irregularities are most probably due to weak and ailing kidneys. If you are ill, if your kidneys are out of order, profit by this Jacksonville resident's experience.

Miss Mary Flynn, 830 Beesley avenue, Jacksonville Ill., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy and act just as represented. I had sharp pains in the small of my back and also had backache, which showed that my kidneys were unnatural. Since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, I have had none of these troubles."

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

By Timely Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Here is her own statement.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Wan, Weary and Worn Out

If You Feel Fagged to a Finish and Utterly Used Up Here is Quick Relief.

Don't Be Chained to the Hitching Post of Wearyland.

Half the people you meet complain of weary muscles, stagnant brain, jangled nerves, and a mournful desire to lay down and just quit. Most of these people have been using nervines that spasmodically flare up the nerves only to die down again, as die they must. Avoid nerve stimulants. Bear in mind that this worn out feeling is due to poor blood, to bacteria in the water you drink; to the multiplying of destructive germs in the blood faster than they can be overcome by the white corpuscles; and to what is known as auto-toxemia, that condition where the venous or impure blood accumulates faster than it can be replaced by the red arterial blood.

If you feel played out go to any drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S., Swift's Sure Specific. Here is a remedy that gets at work in a twinkling; it just naturally rushes right into your blood, scatters germs right and left, up and down and sideways.

You feel better at once, not from a stimulant, not from the action of drugs, but from the rational effect of a natural medicine just as active and just as timely as to a man who has been lost in the mountains, is about starved and comes across a settler just cooking a savory meal of good honest beef. Do not neglect to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. It will make you feel better in just a few minutes. It is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. WISCONSIN GOVERNOR RECOMMENDS STATE MARKET COMMISSION

Object is to Enable Farmer to Sell Products at Better Advantage and Lower Cost to Consumer.

Madison, Wis., March 17.—In a message sent to the Wisconsin legislature tonight Governor McGovern recommends the passage of a bill creating a state market committee to enable farmers to sell their products to a better advantage and at the same time lower the cost to the consumer.

Accompanying the message was a bill drafted by the governor which he desiresenacted into law.

The measure was submitted to the legislature because of the insistent demand from the rural committee of the state for assistance in organizing and establishing co-operative enterprises to protect the farmer against unfair business practices and methods of competitions. The bill also seeks to improve conditions surrounding home life in the country and prevent the constantly increasing influfix of persons from the rural communities to the cities.

The proposed law creates a state market commission composed of the dairy and food commissioners as ex-officio members and two other members to be apopinted by the governor.

F. E. Walling, a farmer living near Yukon, Mo., strongly recommends Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and says: "I have been advised by my family doctor to use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for my children when there was a cough medicine needed. It always gives the best of satisfaction and I recommend it to others." City Drug Store—J. A. Obermeyer.

SPEND HONEYMOON IN JAIL.

Atlanta, Ga., March 17.—Harley Baililes may attempt to collect damages from the United States for having to spend his honeymoon in jail. Baliles and his bride spent six months in a cell because they were wanted as witnesses in a murder trial. Being ignorant of the ways of the law they were unable to take steps toward regaining their liberty and with all the stoism of north Georgia mountaineers they settled down to housekeeping behind the bars of Fulton tower. During a portion of their imprisonment they were confined in the death cell as no other quarters were available. The release of the prisoners came after their case was given publicity in the local newspapers. It became known today that Baililes is considering taking legal steps to obtain redress for his enforced idleness and the humiliation suffered by himself and his 17 year old bride.

FIGHTING THE MAIL ORDER HOUSES

Indiana Newspaper Man Tells How He Succeeded in Getting People to Buy at Home.

Watch Words, a trade magazine published monthly has in a recent issue an interesting story of what a Muncie, Ind., newspaper man accomplished in a few months time fighting against the mail order houses and in favor of the retail merchants. His story in part is as follows.

"Our city nas a population of about 35,000, which is divided between manufacturing, retail and agricultural interests. It is in a territory that is very close to Chicago, which is the home of the mail order business, and it is needless to say that fully 30 per cent of the merchandise consumed in this community was bought from mail order houses, and you notice I use the term "was bought." I made up my mind some time ago that this was an unnatural condition that should not exist and that it was possible to overcome this competition. After carefully studying the situation I also made up my mind that what was needed first was more aggressive advertising by the retail merchants, and I have largely succeeded in getting the merchants of our town to put more brains into their advertising.

"I also found by careful investigation that the sentiment of the people at large was really against the local retail merchant, and I further found that this was true because the retail merchant had never opened his mouth in his own defense but had "rested on his oars," allowing the mail order man to publish pages and pages of accusations against him. To meet this condition I started an educational home trade and community development campaign. I have been publishing one column of editorial matter every day since the first of August. In this editorial matter I tell the people "the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth." And I back up these statements with arguments and with actual facts secured from the consumers themselves regarding their experience in purchasing marchandise from mail order houses.

"I go further than this; on merchandise that is subject to chemical analysis I buy samples and have them analyzed by chemists and I publish these analyses. I take the catalogues of these mail order houses and I make careful comparisons of prices and I publish these comparisons. I secure statements from manufacturers who are making merchandise for mail order houses, as to the quality of the goods they manufacture, and I publish these statements. In fact, I leave no stone unturned to give the people the exact truth regarding the kind of merchandise they buy from mail order houses, regarding its quality and regarding the prices they pay for it.

"Along the community development line I show the people the value of the retail merchant to the community. I show how it would be impossible for the community to prosper without the retail merchant. I show where the retail merchant as a body is always in the front of every movement to better all conditions in our town and community. In this I am careful to state only facts. And at that only facts that I can prove.

"This campaign has been running but a few months but the results are enormous. Hundreds of people who were in the habit of going to the city to trade at department stores, hundreds of others who traded largely through catalogues, and hundreds of women who were members of soap clubs are beginning to see that this method of trading is a fallacy and did not mean any saving for them, in fact, the people of the community are beginning to wake up to the fact that it is costing them a great deal of money to trade with these foreign concerns. In other words, the home trade and community development campaign is bearing fruit.

"To the retail fraternity all over the country I would say that this is your only hope. You must educate the people to the exact truth regarding actual conditions as they exist. You must show them that the mail order business is a fallacy, that it is a hoax."

When Burton Holmes recently gave his celebrated travelogue on "Panama" at Orchestra hall, Chicago, he was seriously interrupted by continual coughing of the audience. No one annoys willingly and if people with coughs, colds, hoarseness and tickling in throat would use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, they could quickly cure their coughs and colds and avoid this annoyance. SLOW TRADING ON STOCK MARKET

ALTHOUGH MARKET WAS SUBJECTED TO NO SEVERE PRESSURE MOVEMENT WAS SLOW.

Many Unfavorable Influences Depress Market—Fluctuations of the Harriman Shares were Forced by London Market Reports.

(By Associated Press)

New York, March 17.—Although the stock market at no time today was subected to severe pressure, trading was slow. Abandonment of the plan of segregation of the Harriman properties, depression of the European markets, foreign selling here, engagement of $2,000,000 more gold for export to France, and continuance of high money rates, all were unfavorable.

Wide fluctuations of the Harriman shares were forced by what occurred in the London market before the opening here.

2Union Pacific fell nearly two points and Southern Pacific advanced as much, the latter stock rising on the report that the latter company would share better with a new dissolution plan than under the abandoned one.

At the opening here the Harriman stocks moved less widely than abroad. Southern Pacific soon lost its initial decline of a point and Union Pacific sold 2% below Saturday's clos.. London selling here estimated at 15,000 shares, was one of the principal causes of the market's weakness. The effect of the unexpectedly good bank statement of las week was partly offset by the further engagement of gold for export.

Liquidation of New Haven continued, the price falling to 114½; a loss of 4½ and a new low record. The petroleum shtares, Central Leather, Woolworth, Rumely and Specialty were weak.

JUDGE BARHORST DOES HIS DUTY TO RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS

If you suffer from Rheumatism and don't read this advice, then the terrible disease must have robbed you of your power to be fair to yourself. Read it:

"I, John Barhorst, Justice of the Peace of McLean Township, Ft. Loramie, Ohio, do certify that after treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very and case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy and I am still as well as ever. Previous to using RHEUMA I was a cripple, walking with crutches, and I feel it my duty to let other sufferers 'rom Rheumatism know what it will do. The result seems almost miraculous to me. I have advised RHEUMA to at least a dozen persons, and each one speaks as highly of it as I. I will answer any one sufffering from the disease if a two cent stamp is enclosed."—May 31, 1912.

You can secure a bottle of RHEUMA for only 50 cents at Coover & Shreve and if not as advertised money back. It's just as good for Gout, Arthritis, Lumbago and Sciatica.

WHEAT PRICE TAKES ANOTHER SLUMP

PRICE HITS NEW LOW LEVEL FOR THE YEAR.

Report That Surplus of Wheat Is Greater Than Any Possible Foreign Demand Before July 1st Causes a Drop in Price.

Chicago, March 17.—Assertions that the United States has a larger surplus of wheat than there can be any possibility of finding European market for before July 1st sent the prices today to a new level for the year. The market closed nervous ⅛@⅜c to ⅝@½c net lower and all the other leading staples showed firmness, corn finishing ¼@¼c higher than Saturday; oats a shade off to a like amount up, and provisions unchanged to an advance of 5c.

Estimates were current that elevator and mill stocks of wheat at 29,000,000 bushels more than last year; farm reserves 30,000,000 bushels more and enough increase in the visible to make the total 70,000,000 bushels in excess of the aggregate supply twelve months back.

This was declared to mean that the United States could export 80,000,000 bushels, if there were foreign buyers for that amonut, prior to the coming in of the new crop. Although wheat prices gave way under bearish argument it was not until after several hours bullish control, mainly due to a decrease in the visible supply. Flattering reports on the growing crop southwest helped to turn sentiment in favor of a decline and so, also, did the slackness of call for cash wheat at Minneapolis and Kansas City. Large world's shipments likewise had an influence. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour equalled 80,000 bushels. Primary receipts of wheat were 1,239,000 bushels, as compared with 667,000 a year ago.

In spite of the weakness of wheat corn held steady because of covering by shorts account of a forecast for unsettled weather. There were also predictions of smaller local receipts.

Oats hardened because of a belief that re-action was due after a continuous break for almost a week.

A slight run of hogs at nearly all packing centers gave firmness to the provision list. The market was also helped by the small stocks on hand in packing houses as shown by the semi-monthly statement.

EARLY ILLINOIS COLLEGE RELICS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED

Letter Eighty-Three Years Old and Chest Carried to Jacksonville by Edward Beecher Recall Early Days.

A letter written by two founders of Illinois College, Theron Baldwin from Jacksonville to Asa Turner in Vandalia, was read by President Rammelkamp in chapel Monday morning. It bears the date of Feb. 2, 1830 and has neither envelope nor postage stamp, the custom in those days being merely to fold a letter and seal it with wax, leaving the postage charges to be paid by the recipient according to distance sent. The board ararngements for the college boys discussed in the letter sound strange to modern ears. Vension could be obtained with ease and the quantities of fish obtainable from the Illinois River at that time could be measured by the wagon load. It was proposed to establish a college farm where a student could lessen his boarding expenses by cultivating vegetables "if he would work." Corn is quoted at 10 and 13 cents a bushel and pork at two dollars a hundred.

Another interesting relic shown was a compact made by the seven young men of the "Yale Band" declaring their intention to go as missionaries to the great west to establish a "seminary of learning." The agreement was dated February 21, 1829 and contains an endorsement dated the 23rd of February by the professors of the young men. Both these documents belong to a donation made to the college recently by Dr. Julian M. Sturtevant Jr., of Chicago.

The chest carried from Boston to Jacksonville by the first president of the college, Edward Beecher, in 1830 was mentioned several days ago when it was shown at the Chicago Alumni banquet. The newspaper lining the "trunk" as President Beecher called it although less than a foot in length, bears the date of 1801 making it something more than a century old.

Dr. Rammelkamp spoke of the good work being done by friends of the college from time to time in collecting such memmentos of the past, and expressed the hope that study of the early history of the institution would be a source of pleasure and encouragement to others as such study had been to him.

W. S. Skelton, a merchant at Stanley, Ind., says he would not take $100.00 for the relief a single box of Foley Kidney Pills gave him. "I had a severe attack of kidney trouble with sharp pains through my back and could hardly straighten up. A single box of Foley Kidney Pills entirely relieved me." City Drug Store—J. A. Obermeyer.

GREAT MUSICIAN.

Mr. and Mrs. Ensley Moore and Mrs. L. H. Davis have returned from St. Louis where they heard the great violinist, Ysaye in a matinee performance with the St. Louis orchestra. And the music was worth the trip. The Moores also met their daughter, Miss Clara Catherine Moore, who came up from her college work to a week end party at the home of Miss Bessie Holnback, in East St. Louis. Miss Helen Mott of Athens, Ill., was also of the party and the trio enjoyed hearing the master violinist.

JUSTICE COURTS.

George Tatman was fined $3 and costs in 'Squire Coons' court Monday on a charge of drunkenness.

THE ROBIN.

The robin is perhaps the best known and most typical American songster. The majority of our singing birds give way to vocal carols less and less often as home duties and cares increase, but from the time he puts in his appearance in the spring to the date of his departure in autumn the robin's carol is heard before sunrise and his chant after sunset.

The robin is one of the earliest migrants, the blue bird alone sometimes putting in an appearance a few days earlier. In our latitude the robin may apear as early as the last week in January, or as late as the closing week in February, the progress of the season and the locality giving rise to great difference of time as to his advent in any given locality. The common belief that the robin migrates because of the rigor of our northern winters needs to be modified; the cause lies rather in the fact of scarcity of food, or rather the food is under the ice or snow. If the bird can find its food in sufficient quantity and variety, it will remain with us during even the coldest winters. Thus in the cold winter of 1910-11, close observers in many localities in Central Illinois were aware of the fact that robin redbreast did not fly away in autumn to the summer southland, but remained in many parts of Central Illinois throughout the long bleak winter. That year was noted for the abundance of fruit in this part of Illinois. The winter days came without warning, and thousands of bushels of apples were frozen on the trees. Just across the road from my boarding place was an apple orchard and in this orchard a score or more of robins lived throughout the winter. Before and after sunrise the birds would be busily employed in getting the seeds out of the frozen apples and doubtless eating more or less of the apple, and just before and after sunset came the robins again, for their evening meal.

As migrants the males put in their appearance first, the females making their advent soon after.

As a rule the first nests are made about April 1; yet I have known these birds to begin the construction of their dwelling as early as March 20. Sometimes the inclemency of the weather, rain, sleet or snow, compels them to stop work till the weather grows clear and warm again. As a rule the nests are found in trees, and at a height of eight or ten feet above the ground. Sometimes, however, the nests may be found in hedges, not more than three or four feet above the ground, on fences and the like, where, it would seem, there would be great danger from snakes and other enemies.

The nests are made of dried grass, with which strings, rags and the like are interwoven; upon this foundation mud walls a fourth of an inch thick, perhaps, are built up, and the smooth walls lined scantily with grass. Both birds take part in the construction of the nest. The female carries the major portion of the heavy materials and busies herself with working into the nests the various odds and ends essential to the structure. The male fetches some of the lighter materials needed and cheers her ever with a song of praise. As a curious fact mention may be made, in passing, that naturalists maintain the robin uses less mud in the construction of the nest than was used a quarter of a century ago. No attempt is made to explain the fact.

Four eggs is the usual number in a complement, the normal coloring a uniform light greenish blue. Robins are among the birds that herald the day with a grand concert at dawn. Their earliest notes are in their nature soft musical twittering, followed by a loud, joyous choral whose effect is reinforced by an accompaniment from other avian songsters.

In view of the fact that the robin stays long with us, its food is a matter for important consideration by the horticulturist and agriculturist. In early spring the robin is a valuable auxiliary or ally for the horticulturist; it feeds then largely on the voracious larval enemies of young plants, thus giving the expanding buds time to shoot beyond danger from destructive insects. From beginning of the fruit season, however, it takes ample pay for the good it has already done, and feeds in turn on strawberries, currants, cherries and the like. The young robins of the first brood are fed for the most part on insects; later broods almost wholly on soft fruits..

One morning late in February of this year I looked out of the window and saw my first robin. I hoped it was the harbinger of an early spring, but the "spring comes slowly up this way." Yet we always associate the return of the robin and the blue bird with that of spring. We feel that the time is near when the snow and ice will disappear, when the streams will be released from their icy fetters to murmur joyously through the land again and the birds come back to make their home with us through another summer.

"One swallow does not make a summer, nor does a lone robin make a spring; yet the coming of the robin ever suggests the advent of spring and of the beautiful days that warm so generally into those of the 'good old summer time.'"

"How happy the life of a bird must be Flitting about from tree to tree."

CLARA MORRIS IS 65.

Yonkers, N. Y., March 17.—Messages of greeting and boquets of flowers were received in abundance to day by Miss Clara Morris, who is remembered by the older generation of playgoers as one of the most noted emotional actresses on the American stage. This was Miss Morris's sixty-fifth birthday anniversary. She lives in a great old fashioned house in Riversdale avenue in this city. She is now totally blind and for two years has been confined to her bed by illness. Despite her misfortune the former actress keeps intimately in touch with the affairs of the world. Interested in all subjects, she has her mother, who is ninety years old, read magazine and newspaper articles to her during the day and when during the night she cannot sleep, her husband, Dr. F. C. Harriott reads to her. When not listening to the reading of her husband and mother, Miss Morris spends much of her time dictating short stories for the magazines.

OLIVE TABLETS OIL The BOWELS

A Physician's Substitute For Dangerous Calomel.

When you feel that your liver and bowels need help take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, substitute for Calomel. Calomel is effective, but dangerous—causing bad after-effects.

Olive Tablets are especially made to take the place of Calomel. Dr. Edwards for years has been Calomel's foe. He saw its dangers and its disadvantages in 17 years' practice treating patients for all kinds of liver and bowel complaints. In his efforts to do without Calomel he developed his now famous little olive-oil colored tablets. Olive Tablets are mild but effective. Safe and sure. Pleasant to take but unfailing in results.

Olive Tablets oil the bowels just enough to start nature's own action, and they tone up the liver at the same time. They are made from a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

If you want to regain that feeling of joyous buoyancy and clear thought take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They work like a vacation. 10 and 25c per box.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

It is self-oiling and is as nearly mechanically perfect as a machine can be made.

The bowl of the Simmons Separator is self-balancing—hence its name. Directly you turn the handle of the Simmons Self-Balancing Cream Separator, the bowl at once finds its own balance in revolving.

Now, this matter of bowl balance is highly important. It eliminates friction and wear—eliminates repair bills and insures clean skimming. Remember that you can't get a self balancing bowl unless you buy the Simmons Self-Balancing Cream Separator.

Foods That Bind Little Children

Start Them Off Right With a Good Laxative and Then Watch Their Diet.

Mothers are often unconsciously very careless about the diet of their children, forcing all to eat the same foods. The fact is that all foods do not agree alike with different persons. Hence, avoid what seems to constipate the child or to give it indigestion, and urge it to take more of what is quickly digested.

If the child shows a tendency to constipation it should immediately be given a mild laxative to help the bowels. By this is not meant a physic or purgative, for these should never be given to children, nor anything like salts, pills, etc. What the child requires is simply a small dose of the gentlest of medicines, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which in the opinion of thousands of watchful mothers is the ideal remedy for any child showing a tendency to constipation. So many things can happen to a constipated child that care is necessary. Colds, piles, headaches, sleeplessness, and many other annoyances that children should not have can usually be traced to constipation.

Many of America's foremost families are never without Syrup Pepsin, because one can never tell when some member of the family may need it, and all can use it. Thousands endorse it, among them Mrs. M. E. Darling, R. F. D. No. 4, Belleview, Pa., who writes: "I certainly think Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin saved my baby's life. Marjorie is a bottle baby and could not get her food to digest, but I found by giving her a small dose of Syrup Pepsin when she had colic it always cured her." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being bought by those who already know its value, and it contains proportionately more. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Everyone likes Syrup Pepsin as it is very pleasant to the taste. It is also mild and non-griping and free from injurious ingredients.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

DECLARES OPPOSITION TO HOME RULE IS DEAD

Speaker at Irish National Banquet in London Proposes Toast "Ireland a Nation."

London, March 17.—The waiters at the Hotel Cecil took advantage of the Irish National banquet tonight to inaugurate a strike but the management conceded their demands and 700 patriotic Irishmen enjoyed the feast.

Proposing the toast, "Ireland a Nation," John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, said that opposition to home rule in Great Britain was dead and the general feeling was one of impatience and regret that the house of lords still had the power to delay the passing of the measure into law.

"But," added Mr. Redmond, "we have only to possess our souls in patience for a few months more and the home rule bill will be the law of the land with the good will and sympathy of the whole empire." Cheers greeted the reading of a cablegram from the United Irish League of America announcing the despatch of another $10,000 for the cause.

Smith in passing sentence explained that Mayor Nice had asked leniency which the said was the reason for making the sentence so light.

A second trial of Georgian on the charge of printing criminally libelous articles involving P. V. Collins, Progressive candidate for governor in the 1912 campaign, will begin April 2nd.

AMERICAN NAVAL STORES CO. FORCED TO SUSPEND BUSINESS

Secretary of Company Asserts That the Government Has Destroyed the Company's Credit and Forced Its Suspension.

Savannah, Ga., March 17.—With assets said to exceed its liabilities by $4,000,000 the American Naval Stores company today announced that it had suspended business. In a statement given out by C. J. Deloach, secretary of the company, he asserts that the fight the government has made upon the company and its officers has practically destroyed the company's credit and has made it wise to discontinue operations.

It is believed by leading creditors that means will be devised by which the business of the company will be carried on without loss of more than a few days.

Before the United States supreme court, Judge Small A. Adams tomorrow will argue an appeal from the lower courts, in the case where two of the officers of the company were sentenced to jail for six months and fined $5,000 each for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The suspension of operations and the liquidation of the company's assets, will, it is asserted, make it unnecessary for the government to press this case further.

The company was chartered December 1, 1906.

The company is capitalized at $3,000,000.

WILL TRY TO SECURE RECOGNITION OF HUERTA GOVERNMENT

Wealthy Mexican Now in Washington Trying to Secure Recognition By the United States of New Administration.

Washington, March 17.—Juan Ochoa Ramos, a wealthy Mexican, a close friend of Felix Diaz, is here to try to secure from the United States recognition of the Huerta provisional government in Mexico. Senor Ramos has seen both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. Although he has been in Washington several days, the real purpose of his visit did not leak out until today, it having been announced when he arrived here that he was in this country merely as a visitor and to look after some of his personal interests. Senor Ramos has considerable sums of money invested in the United States and is an immense land holder and interested in various financial enterprises in his own country. It is understood that he told President Wilson and Mr. Bryan that Huerta was exerting his utmost powers to restore tranquility in Mexico and that the recognition of his authority by this government would be of invaluable aid in securing permanent peace.
